Jews from various countries were brought there, and it served as a transit camp for deportation to death camps like Auschwitz. Auschwitz, situated in Nazi-occupied Poland, was the most notorious death camp, responsible for the extermination of millions.

The individuals who survived these death camps endured indescribable atrocities, including forced labor, malnutrition, disease, and the constant fear of execution. They witnessed the deaths of their loved ones, experienced unimaginable trauma, and suffered severe physical and psychological abuse.

Triumph of Hope From Theresienstadt and Auschwitz to Israel

Now available in English, here is the award-winning and internationally acclaimed testament of a Jewish woman who was taken to Auschwitz while several months pregnant, where she was forced to confront perhaps the most agonizing choice ever imposed upon any woman, upon any human being, so that both she and her newborn infant should not die in a Nazi "medical" experiment personally conducted by the infamous Dr. Josef Mengele. And just as vividly, Ruth Elias recounts the aftermath of her imprisonment, and the difficult path to a new life in a new land: Israel, where new challenges, new obstacles awaited.
