With the World's Great Travellers (Volume 1) (Annotated)

This book include Charles Morris's biography and his works.

The adventures and discoveries here described are gathered from the four quarters of the globe, and include the famous stories of men no longer living, as well as those of present activity. Many of the articles were formerly published in the exhaustive work entitled, "The World's Library of Literature, History and Travel".

For the rich variety and quality of our material we are indebted to many travellers of note, and to the courtesy of numerous publishers and authors. Among these it is desired to acknowledge particularly indebtedness to the following publishers and works: To Harper and Brothers, for selections from Stanley's "Through the Dark Continent," Du Chaillu's "Equatorial Africa," Prime's "Tent-Life in the Holy Land," Orton's "The Andes and the Amazon," and Browne's "An American Family in Germany." To Charles Scribner's Sons: Stanley's "In Darkest Africa," Field's "The Greek Islands," and Schley's "The Rescue of Greely." To G. P. Putnam's Sons: De Amicis's "Holland and its People," Taylor's "Lands of the Saracens," and Brace's "The New West." To Houghton, Mifflin and Co.: Melville's "In the Lena Delta," and Hawthorne's "Our Old Home." To Roberts Brothers: Hunt's "Bits of Travel at Home." To H. C. Coates and Co.: Leonowen's "Life and Travel in India." Equal tribute is offered to the authors who have courteously permitted the use of their material, and in these acknowledgments we include Charles Morris, editor of the above work, and Oliver H. G. Leigh, whose pen has won honors in various fields, for their special contributions to this edition.
