Sometimes, it can be difficult for children to see that Christ is with them everywhere they go. They ask why they can't see Him, or how He could truly be there if they can't touch Him. This Arch Book will help to show them that Christ is with them always, just as He was with the two men walking down the road with their heads hung low. He wanted to show them that He was with them always.

Following the events as told in Luke 24:1-35, you can show children the beauty of this Easter story. Bright illustrations keep children involved in the story the entire time, showing them the beauty of the Bible brought to life in front of their eyes. The back includes a letter to parents to help bridge the idea of reading the story to learning from it and working to apply its teachings to children's daily lives.

First published in 1964, Arch Books captivate children with colorful pictures and creative poems. Each book presents a complete Bible story in a fun-to-read way that children ages 5-9 will understand and remember. Known for their biblical and historical accuracy, Arch Books are accessible, engaging, affordable, and collectible - perfect for assisting teachers and parents as they teach children the Bible and how God works in all aspects of life.
