Many of us are familiar with advent calendars, but do you know their origin? The tradition of counting down the days until Christmas finds its roots in 19th-century Germany. The purpose was to mark the arrival of the festive season and prepare believers for the birth of Jesus Christ. Over time, this joyful practice spread worldwide, evolving into what we now know as The Twenty Four Days Before Christmas.

The advent calendar consists of 24 windows or compartments, each representing a day in December leading up to Christmas Eve.
