This fun book will help spark the imagination of kids everywhere. Every young child knows that a cow goes "moo" but what if a cat went "oink"?

These colorful, cartoon animals will get your kids giggling and wondering just what a kitten that goes "gobble, gobble" might sound like!

First, there is a picture of a cartoon animal with a “speech bubble” giving its real sound (like “oink” for a pig or "cluck" for a chicken.) Then, when the child turns the page they will see the same animal imagining he can make a different sound (like an elephant saying “moo”).

At the very end of the pictures, there is a page that explains what the pretend sound is, like an elephant who says “moo” – at the end it would explain that the sound “moo” is really what a cow would say.

Can you imagine some of these funny animal sounds?

A chicken that roars?
A lion that whistles?
A moose that quacks?
