Burning Man Co-Founder Will Roger's second book begins at his home in Gerlach, Nevada as he tells his story and how it shaped his beliefs and practices for living in balance with the Earth and each other. Written to be read in one sitting or as stand-alone essays, Will's handbook is one-part memoir and one-part how-to guide for cultivating resilience and action through creative and spiritual practices.

Through life stories and examples from works that have inspired his path and daily practices, Will invites readers to cultivate their Art Spirit as a source of knowledge for deepening their connections with others. As we develop who we are instead of who we think we are, our connections to our true selves and other humans both past and present deepens, opening the way toward the paradigm shift we need to make to live harmoniously on this planet Earth, our home.

Contributing art historian, photographer and author, Fred Sigman, writes of the book, "Handbook For A Burning Age is about igniting a fire within us all. Like fire, it is also about illuminating the darkness of a world shaped by a dominant culture that has blinded us to life's possibilities and even its purpose. Before we can change or reverse our planet's deteriorating climate, we must first change the climate within our souls."

The book includes essays by Fred Sigman, a foreword by Chip Conley, and afterword by Rosa JH Berland. Will Roger is also the author of Compass of the Ephemeral: Aerial Photography of Black Rock City through the Lens of Will Roger (Smallworks Press).

About the Author

Will Roger is an artist, teacher, innovator and environmentalist. He is the author of Compass of the Ephemeral: Aerial Photography of Black Rock City through the Lens of Will Roger (Smallworks Press). Co-founder of Burning Man, he has served as Chair of Sierra Front, North Western Great Basin Resource Advisory Council and President of the Friends of the Black Rock-High Rock. He was an Associate Professor of Photography at Rochester Institute of Technology where he received an MFA in Photography. His aerial photography has been exhibited at the Nevada Museum of Art, The Rotunda of the United States Capitol, Sotheby's and Renwick/Smithsonian Museum of Art. He lectures internationally on matters of environment and urban planning.

About the Contributors

Chip Conley is the New York Times bestselling author of Wisdom@Work: The Making of a Modern Elder. He founded Modern Elder Academy (MEA), the world's first "midlife wisdom school," where attendees learn how to repurpose a lifetime of experience for the modern workplace. He serves on the board of the Encore.org, and the advisory board for the Stanford Center for Longevity.

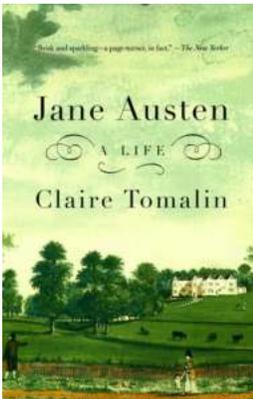

Fred Sigman is an art historian, photographer, and author of the award-winning book, Motel Vegas. The last twenty years he has written about, photographed and filmed ancient architectural landscapes throughout Mexico, Peru and a dozen countries in Asia. He currently teaches online as a Professor of Art History for the College of Southern Nevada while maintaining his globetrotting lifestyle from his home in Siem Reap, Cambodia.

Rosa JH Berland is a curator specializing in modern art and design. A published author, she has worked for The Museum of Modern Art, The Guggenheim Museum, The Whitney Museum of American Art, and the Frick Collection. She serves as the Chief Curator of The Objects Foundation, New York and as the Director of the Edward Boccia Artist Trust, St. Louis.
