In this year a man named Anton Szandor LaVey founded the Church of Satan in San Francisco, California, USA.

LaVey, an impressive but congenial man with a carnival and circus-oriented past, had been an enthusiastic but cynical follower of the occult. He accumulated a unique library containing many works that treat the peculiar and obscure facets of human nature and the great classics of traditional occultism.

Disappointed with the lack of sophistication and relevant practice of the existing underground organizations, he decided that he would have to start one himself to remedy the problem.

In the early 1960s, he began giving "midnight magic seminars" at his home in the Richmond district of San Francisco, California, USA. By 1965 these had solidified into a "Magic Circle" of regular visitors. The success of this Circle prompted him to fuse the Church of Satan on the night of Walpurgis (April 30), 1966, which consequently became known thereafter as the 1st Anno Satani (AS). For the first four years of its existence, the Church of Satan essentially remained an organization limited to San Francisco. Group rituals were held at the LaVey residence every Friday at midnight, while on daily days Anton gave readings on various arcane themes and taught aspiring Witches and Warlocks
